Mercedes-Benz Vision V

23/04/2025

Presented at Auto Shanghai 2025, the Vision V previews Mercedes-Benz's future range of luxury vans. The front enlarges the grille and illuminates it entirely, over 24-inch wheels, in a body that treats the van as a limousine.

The cabin is a private lounge: open-pore burr wood and polished aluminium, and a retractable 65-inch 4K screen separating the rear from the front. The side windows can turn into screens via projectors, so the glazed surface itself becomes part of the interface.

For interior decoration it sets the direction of the upper segment: real natural materials combined with large technical surfaces, and the decorative part designed from the outset to integrate light, projection and sensors.

Source: Car Design News